

Avner Admati Kreps

Department of Economics, Northwestern University
2211 Campus Drive, Evanston, IL 60208

Email: avner@u.northwestern.edu
Website: avnerakreps.com

Education

- 2021– PhD Candidate in Economics, Northwestern University, Evanston, IL
- Primary field: Industrial Organization
- Secondary fields: Information Economics, Econometrics
- Committee: Robert Porter (co-chair), Vivek Bhattacharya (co-chair), Gastón Illanes
- 2014–2018 BA in Economics and MA in Public Policy, Stanford University, Stanford, CA

Research

PUBLICATIONS

“Rules for the Rulemakers: Asymmetric Information and the Political Economy of Benefit-Cost Analysis” with David Besanko and Clair Yang. Journal of Regulatory Economics 66(1):1–51, 2024.

WORKING PAPERS

“Firm Productivity and Learning with Digital Technologies: Evidence from Cloud Computing” with James Brand, Mert Demirer, and Connor Finucane

WORKS IN PROGRESS

“A Large-Scale Evaluation of Merger Simulations” with Vivek Bhattacharya, Gastón Illanes, José D. Salas, and David Stillerman

“Information Sharing and Collusion: Evidence from Poultry Processing”

“Common Pricing Algorithms and Information Design”

“Antitrust Spillovers: Evidence from Meatpacking, 1917–1921”

Professional Experience

- 2023 Research Intern, Microsoft Research, Redmond, WA
- 2018–2021 Senior Analyst (2020–2021), Analyst (2018–2020), Cornerstone Research, Chicago, IL
- 2017 Research Assistant, National Center for Environmental Economics, Environmental Protection Agency, Washington, DC

Teaching

- 2023–2024 ECON 410-1: 1st quarter PhD microeconomics, Northwestern, TA to Eddie Dekel
- 2023 MMSS 311-1: Advanced undergraduate game theory, Northwestern, TA to Jeff Ely
- 2022 MMSS 300: Undergraduate choice theory, Northwestern, TA to Eddie Dekel

TEACHING AWARDS

2023 Distinguished TA Award, Northwestern

Additional Professional Activities

REFEREEING

American Economic Review

PRESENTATIONS, TALKS, AND CONFERENCES

2018 World Economic History Congress