

Avner Admati Kreps

Department of Economics, Northwestern University
2211 Campus Drive, Evanston, IL 60208

Email: avner@u.northwestern.edu
Website: avnerakreps.com

Education

- 2021– PhD Candidate in Economics, Northwestern University, Evanston, IL
- Primary field: Industrial Organization
- Secondary fields: Information Economics, Econometrics
- Committee: Robert Porter (co-chair), Vivek Bhattacharya (co-chair), Gaston Illanes
- 2014–2018 BA in Economics and MA in Public Policy, Stanford University, Stanford, CA

Research

WORKS IN PROGRESS

“Firm Productivity and Learning in the Digital Economy: Evidence from Cloud Computing” with James Brand, Mert Demirer, and Connor Finucane.

“Antitrust Spillovers: Evidence from Meatpacking, 1917–1921”

PUBLICATIONS

“Rules for the Rulemakers: Asymmetric Information and the Political Economy of Benefit-Cost Analysis” with David Besanko and Clair Yang. Journal of Regulatory Economics 66(1):1–51, 2024.

Professional Experience

- 2023 Research Intern, Microsoft Research, Redmond, WA
- 2018–2021 Senior Analyst (2020–2021), Analyst (2018–2020), Cornerstone Research, Chicago, IL
- 2017 Research Assistant, National Center for Environmental Economics, Environmental Protection Agency, Washington, DC

Teaching

- 2023 ECON 410-1: 1st quarter PhD microeconomics, Northwestern, TA to Eddie Dekel
- 2023 MMSS 311-1: Advanced undergraduate game theory, Northwestern, TA to Jeff Ely
- 2022 MMSS 300: Undergraduate choice theory, Northwestern, TA to Eddie Dekel

TEACHING AWARDS

- 2023 Distinguished TA Award, Northwestern

Additional Professional Activities

REFEREING

American Economic Review

PRESENTATIONS AND TALKS

2018 World Economic History Congress